received the cipher dispatches in 1876, it will be very difficult for Tilden to avoid the odium of having been cognizant to their nature and of approving their purpose. They are obviously intended to promote the career of ambition of his life, to further which he had schemed and toiled in secret and in public for years. Moreover, he is known to have a preference for dark and tortuous ways in the pursuit of his desires, and to be an adept in underhand intrigue. The appropriateness of his connection with the cipher dispatches will be recognized. Should he prove positively that he knew nothing of them, people will be apt to wonder how it happened that he preserved his integrity so far. In any case, the New York Tribune has performed a great public service in securing and translating these evidences of Democratic rascality.

Deterioration of Potatoes.

Mr. William M. Hunt, says the Scientific Farmer, makes a curious observation relating to what he deems one of the causes of the deterioration of varieties of potatoes. He says: "Many years ago I saw changes going on in the hills for which I could not account, and the very existence of which was stoutly denied by prominent cultivators; the changes being always ascribed by them to accidental mixing in handling. But I determined to find out for myself the cause, whatever it might be. I began by planting strong growing varieties in alternate rows with others less strong; contriving to have both blossom at the same time. After two seasons the result began to appear in new and distinct varieties. In some instances entire hills would be changed; in others, only a single tuber, and still in others, only a single eye in a tuber. And these changes extend to the time of ripening, the color of the vines, and their habits of growth, and would be permanent. The first thing I learned was that the impregnation took place one year and affected only the buds or eyes, to be followed the next year by the changes in the tubers; and, with very few exceptions, the quality of the variety thus produced is always inferior to the original. No doubt the laws that apply to particular breeds of animals apply also to particular varieties of vegetables; and the foreign substance enters into the circulation of the plant; and deterioration is the natural result of the introduction of bad blood. This deterioration is taking place continually without the aid of man, and will take place in spite of him. Getting seed from a distance does not remedy the evil; for the cause exists universally. The flower of the potato is what botanists call a "wild flower." It has no attraction for insects. A bee never touches it nor a fly. The pollen is carried by the winds to a considerable distance, as the pollen of corn is carried, and impregnation takes place in the same way, wherever there are flowers to receive it. There seem to be but two remedies, and they are but partial. One is, to select the ripest and most perfect tubers from the best hills, and grow seed from them, rejecting from the product all the small and imperfect ones. This is my own practice; and from such seed-plots I am careful to pick all flower buds before they open, the other is to procure new varieties of undoubted excellence, and grow them as long as it is profitable.

Story of a Baby.

From the Chicago Times.
In the beginning was the Democracy and the nigger. And the Democracy thrived amazingly upon the spoils of office while the nigger plied the shovel and the hoe. The Democracy said, "Let the nigger be forever a slave, and let the peculiar institution spread throughout the land." But the nigger said, "Let the Democracy be divided against itself; let it become an outcast and a wanderer upon the earth, seeking for the spoils and not finding them." And it was so. Now, these are the generations of the nigger:—The nigger begat the Republican party; and the Republican party begat the greenback. And the greenback was made of fat money and begat the fiat-money lunatic, which is the rag baby. Then the parent of the greenback became disgusted with its misbegotten progeny and turned against the rag baby and cast it forth upon the cold and cheerless world. But the Democracy came that way and beheld the rag baby, and took a fancy to it, saying, "This misbegotten brat shall help us to recover the spoils. Go to! we will be its nurse." So the Democracy took the rag baby to its bosom and became its wet nurse. And the rag baby grew amazingly and waxed strong, and proposed to lick both its parent and its wet nurse.

A.

Discovery of a New Cipher.

From the Buffalo Express (Rep.).
When Smith Weed and his merry men left the Syracuse Convention in such a hurry and gathered together in another hall to swear and make laws at A. P. Lansing and company, they were in a great state of mind and altogether lost as to what to do. The reported proceedings have informed us that several of the gentlemen made conciliatory speeches,—that is to say, they advised a return to the regular end, in order to fight it out to the bitter end. The truth is, they acted according to orders from headquarters. A small boy was seen to hand Mr. Weed a dispatch, and that dispatch was worded as follows: Blue blundering Helen blazes nincompoops prompt Copenhagen neutrot.

GORE.

Mr. Weed immediately adjourned himself to a side alley, and drawing a little dictionary from his hand coat pocket, translated the message after a time, and with tears in his eyes read as follows:

Get back into the Convention p. d. q.

TIDEN.

And it is a matter of history that Mr. Smith Weed and his merry men got back just as quick as they could.

PERTINENT AND IMPERTINENT.

Troy Times, (Rep.).

How sharper than a serpent's tooth is it to have a ciphering nephew.

If Tilden had been elected President, he would doubtless have written his messages in cipher.

Isn't it about time for somebody to advertise for the whereabouts of Manton Marble? Even the New York reporters can't find the conspicuous gentleman. The general opinion seems to be that he is no more, and even the New York Express speaks of him as the "late Manton Marble." Regue (sat.)

THE DISCOURAGED FRAUD EDITORS.

Boston Advertiser (Rep.).

The victims of the cipher are still silent. Here and there some incredulous friend protests that they must be innocent, but not one of them speaks for himself. The New York World has not heard of the disclosures up to last Saturday, though it has had some articles on literary and historical topics. Most of the Democratic papers are in the same state of darkness on this subject, which must be so interesting to them. The Oregon business is quite put in the shadow by the more audacious operation, and by this more distinguished standing of the operators. Another remarkable effect of the disclosure has been to silence the "fraud" issue, which till lately, threatened to make some noise in the fall campaign. The Democrats of New York especially have no heart for that cry since the little creature they sent out so confidentially, has come home to roost.

"NO MORE OF TILDEN IN THE SOUTH."

Charlotte News and Courier (Dem.).

This is not what one might call exalting or improving political work, and, as Mr. Tilden is not a possibility in Democratic politics hereafter, there is no harm in free speaking. Mr. Tilden bundled and dunked alternately. He could have won by buying an honest decision—and didn't do it. He could have won by a fight—and didn't even make a show of it. The News and Courier vigorously supported Mr. Tilden for the Democratic nomination for President. It was the best thing to do, perhaps, but it leaves a bad taste in the mouth, although, on the former question of the times, pay or repudiate, Mr. Tilden is far ahead of a Thurman or a Voorhes. No more of Tilden in the South, or of any body like him!

TILDEN'S INNOCENCE HARD TO BELIEVE.

CATARRH

Catarrh of the Nasal Cavities, Acute, Chronic, and Ulcerating. Hay Fever, or Eoz Catarrh, Catarrh of the Eye and Ear, and Catarrh of the Throat.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

Catarrh is a disease of the mucous membrane of the nasal cavities, and is characterized by a constant discharge of mucus, which may be thin and watery, or thick and yellowish, and is often accompanied by a sense of fullness and pressure in the head, and by a constant itching and sneezing. It is a disease which is often neglected, and which, if not cured, may lead to serious complications. Sanford's Radical Cure is a simple and effective remedy, which has been used with the most successful results for many years. It is a cure which is not only safe, but also permanent, and which is suitable for all cases of catarrh, whether acute or chronic, whether the discharge is thin or thick, whether it is accompanied by sneezing or not, whether it is confined to the nasal cavities or whether it extends to the eye and ear and throat. It is a cure which is not only safe, but also permanent, and which is suitable for all cases of catarrh, whether acute or chronic, whether the discharge is thin or thick, whether it is accompanied by sneezing or not, whether it is confined to the nasal cavities or whether it extends to the eye and ear and throat.

FARM NOTES

Canadian farmers say six bushels of peas are equal to ten bushels of corn for fattening hogs, and that peas will yield a larger number of bushels per acre than corn. The pork made from peas is most excellent.

It is a great mistake to stint animals in water; 75 per cent. of their weight is water. Digestion cannot go on without it. Water is, therefore, food in its essence, and an ample supply should be provided for every animal at all times.

Husking machines have been much improved since first brought out. For 1,000 bushels of corn it will pay to use a power husker. By and by the thrasher-men will have machines to do this work, and shell the corn at the same time.

The greatest pond in America is on the farm of James W. Wells, in the town of Riverhead, Massachusetts. It covers five acres, and is now so full of eels that they can be raked out with a garden rake. Two years ago Mr. Wells put two thousand eels into the pond, intending to leave them undisturbed for five years. These have increased to millions.

Some of the steel and chilled iron corn-cob mills will grind corn in the husk. For cows, cattle, hogs and calves, (and perhaps for hares, when it is carefully used,) it may be thus ground, conveniently and economically. The corn may be cribbed in the husk, and used as required. If not perfectly dry, grind small quantities at a time, as it will heat if kept in large bulk.

One hog kept to the age of one year, if furnished with suitable material, will convert a cart load per month into a fertilizer which will produce a good crop of corn. Twelve loads per year, multiplied by the number of hogs usually kept by our farmers, would make sufficient fertilizing substance to grow the corn used by them; or in other words, the hog would pay in manure the cost of his keeping. In this way we can afford to make pork at the present low prices, but in no other way can it be done without loss.

Cornstalks are no longer to be considered as a waste product, good for nothing but to be trodden under foot. They are worth fully the cost of putting in the crop, if well saved and cured. When cut at the right time, and well cured, six stalks are a bushel, by many, considered a reasonable estimate of their value for feed. When they are worth ten dollars per ton. Careful experiments place well-cured corn stalks as worth about three-fifths as much as hay.

Pumpkins may be put up in the old fashioned mode of cutting them into rings, paring, and drying upon poles; or they may be cut up into small pieces and dried on plates in the sun and over a fire. A better way, however, is to pare, stew and strain them, just as if for pies; then spread the pulp on earthen dishes, and dry quickly in the hot sun or a partially heated oven. If dried slowly, there is danger of souring. Store in a dry room. Kept in this manner they retain much of the freshness and flavor of newly gathered fruit. The dried pulp should be soaked in milk a few hours before using. In making pies they are greatly improved by stirring the pumpkin in scalding milk, especially if eggs be not used, but without eggs they fall far short of the true "pumpkin pie."

ner. The result was brought about by thoroughly enriching the soil and then by clean culture of the corn. Now did it pay? During the three years $40 was expended for manure, and the same quantity produced on the farm was also used. The result was an increase of not less than 500 bushels of corn, worth $175, and 100 bushels of wheat, worth $90; total, $265 increase. Besides, the ground is now in far better condition to yield crops as is shown by the clover sown after the wheat. The clover now completely hides the stubble, and affords excellent pasture. —Timothy Wilson, Henry county, Indiana.

The Proper Treatment.

The only way to save yourself from the depredations of the lightning rod vampire is to set the dog on him, or in some other way to endeavor to accelerate his motion toward home. It is of no use to think that you can deal with him and not get swindled. Not only do not let him unload a rod, but refuse to talk with him, except to order him off your premises. The earth is never cursed with a more graceless set of scamps than are these strolling swindlers. They make scoundrelism a study, and have reduced it to so nice a science that the game they play is, "heads I win, tails you lose." It is easy to keep out of their clutches by refusing to have anything to do with them, and in no other way.

HEART, STOMACH, LIVER.

Head, nerves, kidneys, bladder, womb, and blood affections of the urinary organs, gravel, rheumatism, catarrh, asthma, bronchitis, dyspepsia, &c.

Dr. Price's reputation has been acquired by candid, honest dealing and years of successful practice.

My practice is not one of experiment, but founded on the laws of Nature, with years of experience and evidence to sustain it, does not tear down, but builds up, and is not a mere treatment, but a remedy; no guess work, but knowledge gained by years of experience in the treatment of Chronic diseases exclusively; no encouragement without a prospect. Candid in our opinions, reasonable in our charges, claim not to know everything, or cure everybody, but do lay claim to reason and common sense. We invite the sick, no matter what their ailment, to call and investigate before they abandon hope, make intercessions and decide for themselves; it will cost nothing as consultation is free. Visits made regularly.

BRIEFLETS.

—Shaky.
—More coal for the coals.
—The school dames hold a meeting this morning.
—The sale of seats for the Hyer sisters opened well at Moseley's to-day.
—Prof. Van Cleave has been engaged to play the organ in All Souls church.
—There isn't such an "I" of a difference after all between flat money and flat money.

—Frank Smith rejoices in the fact that there is a new arrival at his friends. It is a little girl.

—The annual rental of seats in the First Methodist church will be held next Wednesday evening.

—Rev. Henry Sewell, the new pastor of the First Methodist church, will reside at No. 12 Locust street.

—King, the stationer, has adorned the lamp post in front of his new store, with his name and business.

—A collection will be taken in St. Patrick's church to-morrow for the benefit of the yellow fever sufferers.

—Jack Frost was out all night taking a nip here and a nip there, and was found this morning flat in the gutter.

—Col. E. A. Calkins and wife, of Milwaukee, arrived in the city this afternoon, and are the guests of R. L. Colvin.

—The Temple of Honor last night nominated officers for the coming six months. The election will be held next Friday night.

—Mr. John B. Carle and family desire through the columns of the Gazette to return thanks to their friends for the kindly sympathy shown them in their late bereavement.

—Charles Lynch, of Beloit, was among the new arrivals at the Hotel de Colley last night. He engaged board for thirty days, as he wants to sober up. He was given his old room.

—Mr. C. W. Mihills, President of the Fond du Lac Building Association, was in the city to-day, the guest of S. W. Hubbard, who is agent of the Association. The Association is doing a lively business, and is being managed by live men.

—Four tramps were run in by Marshal Keating last night, and the one who was there before won't be so lonesome now. Two of the gang have been there before, and served their time working on the road. It didn't seem to deter them from coming back to try it again.

—An interesting matrimonial event took place at Madison, last Wednesday night, by which Mr. Frank C. Green, of the town of Porter, and Miss M. H. Spence, of this city, were made one. The ceremony took place at the Park hotel, the Rev. C. H. Richards, pastor of the First Congregational church, officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Green took the train for Chicago, St. Louis and the West, and will be absent some weeks.

—Young McKivitt is a slick one. The goods stolen from Lawrence & Atwood's which he buried on the river bank in Beloit, and which he afterwards gave up, were hidden so snugly that no one could have discovered their resting place. With a case knife he cut out a piece of sod, very carefully removed dirt enough to give room for a cigar box in which the knives were placed, and after burying it, replaced the sod so ingeniously that no one could notice that the ground had been disturbed.

—When Mayor Norcross reached home yesterday noon he found that ten bonnies had entered his yard, without any invitation, and had done much damage, and demolished among other things a fine evergreen. The Mayor instituted a pound at his barn, and locked up the bonnies. Strange enough one of the creatures is said to be owned by Marshal Keating, whose business it is to enforce the cow ordinance. The Marshal is too good an officer to let his own cows break the law, and the bonnet culprit will doubtless receive due punishment at his hands.

—W. H. Boyde, the Pearl Baking Powder man, has hung his banner on the outer wall, and it is now spread to the breeze on Milwaukee street in front of Bennett's hardware store, being a large and attractive sign which cannot fail to be seen and known of all men. It offers $1,000 reward to any man who can discover any adulteration in the goods made by C. E. Andrews & Co., whose interest he represents. It is a showy banner, and the Pearl Baking Powder which it proclaims, merits likewise the attention of all. A trial of this powder will convince anyone of its superior qualities.

—Mr. John Wingate will open his dry-goods store the first part of the coming week, in the store now occupied by R. W. King. He has been in the New York market and selected as fine an assortment of goods as could possibly be chosen, and proposes to give his customers the benefit of the close figures at which he purchased his stock. Everything is new and the shelves and counters will be loaded with many attractions. Mr. Wingate is by no means a novice in the business, and understanding as he does the wants of the trade he has selected goods well fitted to supply these wants.

—This week's Broadhead Independent contains the valedictory of E. O. Kimberly who has chosen Sioux Falls, Dakota, as his future home, where he in company with Mr. Morse will start a new paper. Mr. Kimberly's removal will prove a loss to Wisconsin journalism, as he has wielded a lively quill and has shown enterprise and ability in the management of the Independent. The best wishes of hosts of his friends go with him to his new home. Mr. Barr Sprague has purchased the Independent, and Gay Sprague will superintend the mechanical department. The paper will remain loyal to Republicanism and there is every reason for believing that the new men at the helm will guide it safely and prosperously. The Gazette extends its heartiest and best wishes to him who goes and to those who succeed him.

—The thermometer at 7 o'clock this morning stood at 34 degrees above and at 2 o'clock this afternoon at 50 degrees above. Clear. One year ago to-day at corresponding hours the thermometer stood at 52 degrees above.

The indications to-day are for the upper lake region, clear or partly cloudy weather, cold northerly shifting to warmer southeasterly winds, stationary or lower pressure.

GUILTY OF MURDER.

The Verdict of the Jury in the Ohms Case.

The trial of Fred Ohms, for the murder of his father has been occupying the attention of the Circuit Court of Green county, this week. The evidence was of a circumstantial nature, but linked together closely together. Witnesses were produced to show the ill feeling between the father and son, as a motive for committing the deed. It was testified that young Ohms was seen on the day before the murder near his father's house, and in the evening was in Judd's. Tracks near the scene of the bloody deed were examined closely, and the tracks found to correspond with the peculiar shaped heel of young Ohms' boot. These tracks were traced for a mile or so, and it is claimed that they indicated from the length of the steps and other circumstances that the wearer of the boots must have been running. Others swore that they saw him board the train at Judd's the morning after the murder, and Conductor Dean and his men also identified him.

In behalf of the defense was set up the prisoner's claim that he was in Janesville at the time of the murder, and had been there for some time before. An effort was made also to establish a previous good character.

The arguments were concluded yesterday afternoon and Judge Colclough charged the jury. They were closeted until about 2 o'clock this morning when they agreed upon a verdict, finding Fred Ohms guilty of murder in the first degree, the penalty for which is imprisonment for life.

The prisoner has shown a stolid indifference throughout the trial, sitting with his head down, and holding communications with no one, and hardly noticing the presence of his attorney who sat beside him.

It is understood that an attempt will be made to secure a new trial and in case the motion is granted, a change of venue will be asked for.

BEATS THE WORLD.

Mr. Berry who has recently returned from a visit to Scotland, states that after sampling the famous ales of Edinburgh, and also admitted to be the richest brewed in Great Britain, gives his opinion that they are inferior in quality to Todd's Janesville ale, and so informed the brewers. We have also the opinion of Mr. Woodcock, an old pioneer of Rock county, and also a gentleman of great reliability, who recently paid a visit to the City of London; he emphatically states that after testing the various brands of the London breweries, he saw no ale superior to Todd's ale, and none he liked so well. The conclusion to be drawn from this is, that Todd's ale beats the world.

TRIBUTE OF THE TEMPLE.

The Cream City Temple of Honor, of Milwaukee, has prepared a series of resolutions as indicative of their feelings in regard to Rev. Henry Sewell, who has been appointed pastor of the First Methodist church in this city. By request of the committee whose names are appended thereto, we give the document in full:

CREAM CITY TEMPLE OF HONOR, Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 17th.

PREAMBLE. Whereas, by established custom and rule it has become necessary for our esteemed companion and brother, Rev. Henry Sewell, to change the location of his ministerial labors,

Resolved, That Cream City Temple of Honor, while congratulating our brother and chaplain on the many advantages which must necessarily accrue to him by this change, do sincerely regret and deprecate the existing rules and regulations which deprive our order of one of its brightest ornaments and fairest pillars.

Resolved, That by the experiences of the past, we heartily commend our esteemed brother to the highest fraternal considerations of the members of our order wherever they may have the pleasure of exchanging fraternal courtesies with him.

Resolved, That while our Temple is thus constrained to tender to Brother Sewell a tribute due him on account of high esteem, and in consideration of undivided zeal and energy in our cause we cannot omit to commend him to the social life of the field of his future professional labors as an acquisition, and as a genial gentleman, as true a friend, as consistent a Christian, and as fearless a soldier in the army of his Lord and Master, as ever took the Temple's vow, or bowed beneath the cross and work of Christ.

DR. PALMER'S ACCIDENT.

We gladly give place to the following correction, the statements contained in which are corroborated by other parties who were also cognizant of the condition of the street-crossing in question:

To the Editor:

In noticing the account of the accident to Dr. Palmer, in your last evening's paper, you state that "the center of the street was in good condition for passing teams." That was a mistake. The point where the Doctor was thrown out, and his buggy smashed, was directly in the center of the main traveled track, and less than four feet from the center of the street. There was not more than eight or ten feet in width of the street that could be passed over in safety even by day light and that point was entirely to one side of the traveled track.

An Undeniable Truth.

Personal knowledge and common sense reasoning, will soon show you that Green's August Flower will cure you of Liver Complaint, or Dyspepsia, with all its miserable effects, such as sick headache, palpitation of the heart, sour stomach, habitual constipation, dizziness of the head, nervous prostration, low spirits, &c. Beyond the Reach of Human Skill.

Is the power to restore the hair to bald heads when the bulbs at the roots are destroyed by age or disease; but there are doubtless many persons beset by baldness, who have had careful attention might be restored to its original luxuriance and beauty. Parker's Hair Balsam is an elegant preparation, designed to meet the public want for a harmless hair dressing and restorative. It acts like magic, commencing at the very roots, removes Dandruff and all humors from the scalp, and never fails to restore gray or faded hair to the original color, and the soft, rich and glossy appearance of youth. By its occasional use, the hair is immediately checked, and a luxuriant and beautiful growth of young hair induced. The exquisite perfume and the purity of its composition are highly appreciated, and as it is not a dye and does not stain the skin or clothing, it is a growing favorite of the toilet table everywhere. Buy a bottle from your druggist A. J. Robert's, Janesville, Wis., and test its merits. jydawedwly3

DIED.

KING.—In Center, September 13th, 1878. HERRIE, wife of Henry S. King, aged 59 years, and 6 months.

The deceased was born in Carroll, Chautauque county, New York, April 30th, 1819. March 1st, 1840, she was married to Henry S. King, and settled in Frewsburg. She was the mother of four children, two of whom survive her. In 1856 she removed with her family to Menasha, Winnebago county, Wisconsin, and in 1860 to Center, Rock county. As a wife and mother she had few equals; her husband found in her a ready and efficient helpmate; her children a tender and devoted mother. She made many warm friends wherever she was known. The sick listened for her coming; to the tale of sorrow or wrong, she was a sympathizing listener and tender counselor; the poor and needy she never forgot; many are the blessings and prayers which have arisen for her, from those to whom she proved the "friend in need." Although a severe sufferer for years she was always patient and cheerful—hopeful to the last. Her last illness was short and her end quiet and peaceful. Now her home is made sad and lonely by her loss; the heart-strings of husband and children are sadly torn; but they mourn not for their loved one as without hope. Her Savior said to her "Well done good and faithful servant," and took her to dwell with Him. May we meet her in Heaven.
